Margaret, Oklahoma

Donna A. Heckler, a Catholic corporate executive jokes that God gave her a “time-out” when she shattered her leg. However, because she did not fully learn to sit quietly with God, he gave her another bigger time-out, stage 3 cancer. A very accomplished and busy professional, this faith-filled Catholic missed God in her everyday life, and yet couldn’t figure out how to make time for him. With these time-outs along the way, she learned to sit quietly with God and to Be Radiant, letting God shine through.

Donna wrote the acclaimed book, Living Like A Lady When You Have Cancer in hopes that others could live radiantly, despite their cancer journey. In her inspirational speech “And Then God Gave Me A Time-out” she shares her stories all the while encouraging others to Be Radiant, despite the challenges in their life. God now takes the front seat in her life as she shares her journey, her beliefs, her tips and tricks.

Don’t miss having this compelling and inspirational speaker touch the lives and hearts of those in your community.
